

Savvy Strategies Relationship Skills Bootcamp Policies

Cancellation Policy

Registration and payment may be transferred to attendance at a future workshop (minus a 10% fee) up to fourteen days before the event. Participants are limited to one transfer per registration (i.e., you cannot transfer more than once). Please note that this cancellation policy applies to all circumstances, including but not limited to canceled flights, weather events, illness, emergencies, or any other unforeseen situations. The organizers may postpone or cancel the workshop due to severe weather, the facilitator's illness or emergency, or other extreme unforeseen circumstances. In the unlikely event of cancellation, the registration fee will be fully refunded to all participants. The organizers are not responsible for participant costs of travel arrangements or any other expenses incurred.

Statement of Inclusivity and Belonging

This workshop is welcoming and inclusive of all people, and the facilitator maintains a space of safety, respect, dignity, and belonging for participants of all races, sexual identities, genders, religions, and nationalities.

Attendance and Participation

Workshop attendees can determine how much personal information they wish to share with the group. All participants are expected to be appropriately engaged in the workshop. Please arrive on time and plan to remain until the close of each day. Please return from scheduled breaks promptly. To maintain a safe, supportive, and productive learning environment, all workshop participants are expected to treat each other, the facilitators, and the workshop space with respect at all times. This includes refraining from any speech or behavior that is disruptive, abusive, hateful, or excessively rude. If a participant behaves disrespectfully, the workshop facilitators will remind them privately of the participation expectations. If the disrespectful behavior continues, the facilitators reserve the right to remove the participant from the workshop without refunding any fees to maintain a positive atmosphere and protect the experience of the other participants.

Mobile Devices

Power down all devices or set them to silent (no vibration) except when on break. Please do not take any pictures that include others without their expressed permission. Recording on devices is not permitted. Confidentiality This workshop encourages honest and vulnerable sharing of experiences. The facilitator and participants may share personal memories and experiences. Please honor this sharing by creating a container of confidentiality and support. Anything shared in this workshop, including the names of other participants, should be kept confidential. To put it plainly, what happens in Bootcamp stays in Bootcamp.

Venue Care and Responsibility

We ask all participants to treat the event venue with respect and care to ensure a pleasant experience for everyone. In the unlikely event that a participant accidentally causes damage to the venue, they will be responsible for covering the necessary repair or replacement costs. The workshop facilitators cannot be held liable for any damage caused by participants. Participants acknowledge their responsibility to care for the venue and its contents by registering for the workshop.

Disclaimer

The Relationship Skills Bootcamp is intended for educational purposes and is not a substitute for therapy or other mental health services. Participation in this workshop does not constitute a therapeutic relationship with Dr. Amelia Romanowsky, PsyD, Nikki Loscalzo, Ed.M., or other co-facilitators. If attendees require additional support with issues that cannot be resolved using the skills in this workshop alone, it is their sole responsibility to find that support. Participating in further learning opportunities and therapeutic services may help attendees deepen their understanding of the skills and concepts covered in the workshop. A list of certified RLT practitioners is available upon request.